

APPENDIX C—SURFACE STIPULATIONS APPLICABLE TO OIL AND GAS LEASING AND OTHER SURFACE DISTURBING ACTIVITIES

This appendix lists by alternative surface stipulations for oil and gas leasing referred to throughout this Draft Resource Management Plan (RMP) and Draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS). These surface stipulations would also apply, where appropriate and practical, to other surface disturbing activities (and occupancy) associated with land use authorizations, permits, and leases issued on BLM lands. The stipulations would not apply to other activities and uses where they are contrary to laws, regulations, or policy for specific land use authorizations. The intent is to manage other activities and uses as consistent as possible with oil and gas leasing.

Surface disturbing activities are those that normally result in more than negligible disturbance to public lands. These activities normally involve disturbance to soils and vegetation to the extent that reclamation is required. They include, but are not limited to, the use of mechanized earth-moving equipment; truck-mounted drilling equipment; geophysical exploration; off-road vehicle travel in areas designated as limited or closed to off-highway vehicle (OHV) use; placement of surface facilities such as utilities, pipelines, structures, and oil and gas wells; new road construction; and use of pyrotechnics, explosives, and hazardous chemicals. Surface disturbing activities would not include livestock grazing, cross-country hiking, driving on designated routes, and minimum impact filming permits.

DESCRIPTION OF SURFACE STIPULATIONS

Table AC-1 shows resources of concern and stipulations including exceptions, modifications, and waivers by alternative. Three surface stipulations could be applied to land use authorizations: (1) no surface occupancy (NSO), (2) timing limitations (TL), and (3) controlled surface use (CSU).

Areas identified as NSO would be closed to surface disturbing activities. NSO areas would be avoidance areas for rights-of-way (ROW) and where necessary would be recommended for withdrawal from operations under the mining laws (locatable minerals) to prevent unacceptable resource impacts. An NSO stipulation cannot be applied to locatable minerals without a withdrawal. A withdrawal is not a land use planning decision because it must be approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

Areas identified as TL would be closed to surface disturbing activities during identified time frames. TL areas would be open to operational and maintenance activities, including associated vehicle travel, during the closed period unless otherwise specified in the stipulation.

Areas identified as CSU would require proposals to be authorized only according to the controls or constraints specified. The controls would be applicable to all surface disturbing activities.

EXCEPTIONS, MODIFICATIONS, AND WAIVERS

Surface stipulations could be excepted, modified, or waived by the authorized officer. An exception exempts the holder of the land use authorization document from the stipulation on a one-time basis. A modification changes the language or provisions of a surface stipulation, either temporarily or permanently. A waiver permanently exempts the surface stipulation. The environmental analysis document prepared for site-specific proposals such as oil and gas development (i.e., applications for permit to drill [APD] or sundry notices) also would need to address proposals to exempt, modify, or waive a surface stipulation. To exempt, modify, or waive a stipulation, the environmental analysis document would have to show that (1) the circumstances or relative resource values in the area had changed following issuance of the lease, (2) less restrictive requirements could be developed to protect the resource of concern, and (3) operations could be conducted without causing unacceptable impacts.

STANDARD TERMS AND CONDITIONS

All surface disturbing activities are subject to standard terms and conditions. These include the stipulations that are required for proposed actions in order to comply with the Threatened and Endangered Species Act (ESA). Standard terms and conditions for oil and gas leasing provide for relocation of proposed operations up to 200 meters and for prohibiting surface disturbing operations for a period not to exceed 60 days. The stipulations addressed in Table AC-1 that are within the parameters of 200 meters and 60 days are considered open to oil and gas leasing subject to standard terms and conditions.

CLOSED AREAS

Areas identified as closed are not available for oil and gas leasing. Areas where restrictions apply to all surface disturbing activities are noted with an asterisk.

Exception: An exception may be granted by the Field Manager if authorization is obtained from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) (through applicable provisions of the ESA). The Field Manager may also grant an exception if an environmental analysis indicates that the nature of the conduct of the actions, as proposed or conditioned, would not impair the primary constituent element determined necessary for the survival and recovery of the federally listed and candidate plant species and USFWS concurs with this determination. Modification: The Field Manager may modify the boundaries of the stipulation area if an environmental analysis indicates and USFWS determines (through applicable provisions of the ESA) that a portion of the area is not being used as federally listed and candidate plant species habitat. Waiver: A waiver may be granted if the federally listed and candidate plant species is de-listed and if USFWS determines it is not necessary for the survival and recovery of the federally listed and candidate plant species.
