

APPENDIX G – GRAZING ALLOTMENT SUPPORTING DATA

Introduction

Tables G-1, G-2, and G-3 are lists of the grazing allotments crossed by each alternative route for each state. This information supports the land use resource inventories and impact assessment. The inventories and analysis are included in the Draft Environmental Impact Statement and Land-use Plan Amendments for the Energy Gateway South Transmission Project Section 3.2.10.

NOTES: The agency total allotment acreage and the miles crossed do not equal a sum of each agency’s total allotment acreage or miles crossed, due to overlap of allotment boundaries. Also, the grand-total acreage and the miles crossed do not equal a sum of each agency’s total allotment acreage or miles crossed due to overlap of allotment boundaries. ¹Temporary Disturbance: Estimated area of disturbance associated with structure work areas, wire pulling-and-tensioning sites, wire-splicing sites, multi-purpose construction yards, helicopter fly yards, guard structures, and temporary access roads (refer to Environmental Impact Statement [EIS] Table 2-1). ²Permanent Disturbance: Estimated area of disturbance associated with the area occupied by structures-(pads), communication regeneration stations, substations and series compensation stations, and permanent access roads (refer to EIS Table 2-2). ³All percentages of allotments disturbed are less than 0.1 percent. Due to rounding, the percentages are shown as 0.0 percent. ⁴For the BLM White River Field Office, the unit called “Unallotted” has not been included in the numbers above. BLM = Bureau of Land Management USFS = U.S. Forest Service

NOTES:

The agency total allotment acreage and the miles crossed do not equal a sum of each agency's total allotment acreage or miles crossed, due to overlap of allotment boundaries. Also, the grand-total acreage and the miles crossed do not equal a sum of each agency's total allotment acreage or miles crossed due to overlap of allotment boundaries.

¹Temporary Disturbance: Estimated area of disturbance associated with structure work areas, wire pulling-and-tensioning sites, wire-splicing sites, multi-purpose construction yards, helicopter fly yards, guard structures, and temporary access roads (refer to Environmental Impact Statement [EIS] Table 2-1).

²Permanent Disturbance: Estimated area of disturbance associated with the area occupied by structures-(pads), communication regeneration stations, substations and series compensation stations, and permanent access roads (refer to EIS Table 2-2).

³All percentages of allotments disturbed are less than 0.1 percent. Due to rounding, the percentages are shown as 0.0 percent.

⁴For the BLM White River Field Office, the unit called "Unallotted" has not been included in the numbers above.

BLM = Bureau of Land Management

USFS = U.S. Forest Service

NOTES:

The agency total allotment acreage and the miles crossed do not equal a sum of each agency's total allotment acreage or miles crossed, due to overlap of allotment boundaries. Also, the grand-total acreage and the miles crossed do not equal a sum of each agency's total allotment acreage or miles crossed due to overlap of allotment boundaries.

¹Temporary Disturbance: Estimated area of disturbance associated with structure work areas, wire pulling-and-tensioning sites, wire-splicing sites, multi-purpose construction yards, helicopter fly yards, guard structures, and temporary access roads (refer to Environmental Impact Statement [EIS] Table 2-1).

²Permanent Disturbance: Estimated area of disturbance associated with the area occupied by structures (pads), communication regeneration stations, substations and series compensation stations, and permanent access roads (refer to EIS Table 2-2).

³All percentages of allotments disturbed are less than 0.1 percent. Due to rounding, the percentages are shown as 0.0 percent.

⁴For the BLM White River Field Office, the unit called "Unallotted" has not been included in the numbers above.

⁵The unit in Uinta–Wasatch–Cache National Forest called "Watershed Closure" has not been included in the numbers above.
