Comments (use back if needed):

Taking coal leasing away without any negotiating is wrong. This just takes away jobs from families that depend on the income ~~from~~ for schooling for kids to go to college and survive. Most coal miners have little schooling after high school but can provide a descent living with a coal miners wage. Putting coal miners out of work is like putting older high school graduates back on the job market and starting over to try and learn a new occupation.
