The following message is in response to your BLM Public Help Desk ticket submitted on 01/31/2022:

2021 Greater Sage-grouse Land Use Plan Amendments. I support the statement by the Bighorn Audubon: The Bighorn Audubon Society agrees that the Bureau of Land Management's existing sage grouse conservation management plans need revising. While Wyoming's own greater sage grouse voluntary management strategy was proactive, and the USDA's Sage Grouse Initiative created $211 million in incentives, the steady decline in greater sage grouse populations and other sagebrush obligates continued. These losses warrant science-based, cooperative and consistent management plan revisions before it's too late.
