EIS Team Responsible Official:

There will be many harmful consequences of lease sales on the coastal plain of the Arctic Refuge. The sales will threaten fish, wildlife, clean water, small businesses, trans-boundary conservation, and Alaska Native cultural and subsistence rights. There will be added greenhouse gas pollution at a time when U.S. oil production is soaring and the global climate is destabilizing.

Drilling in the Arctic Refuge defies economic reason and goes against any measure of public interest.

Please keep this global treasure untrammelled.
