I am opposed to drilling in the fragile Alaskan Arctic Refuge.

The US has a surplus of oil and gas leases and permits. Only a small fraction of the area under federal contracts is currently being accessed. There is no need to develop this area. The exploration and building of infrastructure would damage the fragile ecosystem. There are few places left in our country and the planet that remain untouched from development

In 2015 the US Fish and Wildlife Service concluded that development would lead to irrevocable damage to this area.

Greed is the motivator behind the proposed development. Prevent the Arctic Refuge from exploitation.

Sincerely,
