To Whom It May Concern,

The shameless greed of the oil and gas corporations is once again evident in their attempt to plunder the the ANWR. The fossil fuel industry is in sharp decline because renewable energy is cheaper. Yet, they cannot resist the temptation to exploit every possible source of oil and gas before the fossil fuel gravy train comes to a screeching halt.

Where is it written that our remaining sacred public lands must be sacrificed to the insatiable greed of the oil and gas corporate overlords?

Keep it in the ground.
