Dear Ms. Hayes

This letter is written in opposition to oil extraction on the coastal plain of northern Alaska.

You are well aware of all the reasons to oppose this. What takes years to protect and create can be reversed in only 60 days.

This is irreversible injury to a fragile part of the earth all for the sake of making money for a privileged few who now control our 'democracy'.

It is well past time to look at rising CO2 levels and what can be done to stop their rise and the extensive alterations that they will cause on the earth. Many people will die and be displaced as evident in Syria whose problem is partly because of climate change.

It is high time to look at alternative energy sources for our own economy and our children's future. We are going to go the way of Kodak when the company stayed on film too long just to make a few more dollars in the short run instead of moving forward to digital technology.

Please consider where this leads most of us-not just those with lots of money to sway the law.

Thanks-I know you hear lots of this but please think about it!!

David Hall, M. D.
