I live in Eagle River, Alaska, and have spent time in the Arctic Refuge and coastal plain over the last 18 years. I urge you to draft a proposed alternative that commits the least land possible to leasing. I oppose the entire project but understand that by law you must follow the parameters articulated in the tax bill. I'm concerned about impacts to wilderness character and values, intangible (including spiritual) values, human rights of the Gwich'in people, impacts to caribou, and impacts to the visitor experience. In my opinion, any development on the coastal plain will irreversibly impair these resources and values. This is absolutely a sacred place, perhaps the most sacred place to those who find god in wild places.

Thank you,
Adrienne Lindholm
