Hello,

I'm writing to oppose the oil industry being given access to the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. As its name indicates, it is a National Wildlife Refuge. As a refuge, it is supposed to protect the wildlife values it holds from entities and/or activities that would threaten it. Oil industry activity is simply incompatible with the reason the refuge was created.

Every poll on the issue I've seen has shown the American people want it to remain fully protected. Given this, it is fair to say a solid majority of Americans are opposed to opening it to the oil industry or any other extractive activities.

Please do not allow it to be degraded. Reject intrusion by the oil industry.

Sincerely,

Mark Johnston
