

CoastalPlain_EIS, BLM_AK &lt;blm_ak_coastalplain_eis@blm.gov&gt;

---

[EXTERNAL] Re: Science-based research re oil extraction in the Arctic Refuge

1 message

---

Jennifer Hosterman <jenniferhosterman@comcast.net>
Reply-To: Jennifer Hosterman <jenniferhosterman@comcast.net>
To: blm_ak_coastalplain_eis@blm.gov

Mon, Jun 11, 2018 at 1:39 PM

Dear Sir/Madam:

It is clear from the science we have that we are moving away from coal and toward renewable sources of energy. This is not a discussion about whether we need additional sources of coal for our energy future. . . but rather, whether it makes sense to wreak havoc on 400,000 acres of pristine habitat to get to that unnecessary coal source.

As a taxpayer, I vehemently oppose drilling in or near the Arctic Refuge. It's called a "refuge" because that's what it is - a refuge for all native flora and fauna, away from the unnecessary destruction by us humans.

Please deny any permitting for drilling in this part of the world. Let's get back on track with the Clean Air Plan, and reducing emissions.

Thank you,

Jennifer Hosterman

2922 Chardonnay Drive

Pleasanton, CA 94566

\(925\) 567-6868