I am strongly opposed to drilling in the Alaska National Wildlife Refuge. It is one of the last truly wild places on earth. I care because the birds that come to the Dungeness National Wildlife Refuge here migrate to Alaska. I am also very concerned that the legislation that allows drilling on ANWR could be too easily extended to cover Dungeness NWR.

Drilling will create a network of roads that will disturb wildlife. The Alaska native people who consider the Refuge sacred lands and who rely on the caribou that live there will suffer.

But most of all, we do not need the oil.
