I have read with growing fury the plan to implement oil and gas drilling in the Arctic Wildlife Refuge Coastal Plain. This is short-sighted and pointless, and will result in significant damage to this pristine area when the inevitable equipment failure occurs. Doesn't anyone remember DeepWater Horizon? Who picked up the tab for that damage? TAXPAYERS! who are also VOTERS!

Humans have inflicted uncontrolled damage all over this planet. Can't we stay out of this one area where wildlife is already suffering due to human-inflicted global warming? There is no economic advantage to be gained here given current energy prices, and ruining this area particularly now makes no sense whatsoever.

This plan should be reconsidered. And tabled.

Sincerely,
