Having been to the Brooks Range in service to the government as a firefighter for the forest service, I cannot possibly fathom why or how the BLM thinks drilling there is a good idea. It is a well-known fact that we already have large amounts of oil and gas reserves in the lower 48. It is a well-known fact that this critical environment is crucial for migratory birds Caribou and polar bears- already threatened mind you-habitat and survival. It's a well-known fact that all of the roads and structures that would need to be built would decimate their habitat ,not to mention the almost inevitable oil spill. Please show some critical thinking of these facts, respect for the culture of the indigenous citizens, and some regard for what is left of our wild places and do not move forward on oil and gas drilling in a ANWR. Thank you, Sue Quigley
