To Whom it may concern,

I strongly feel that any significant development in the area of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge will be seen clearly in the future as a huge and regrettable action. The generations to follow, along with an enormous segment of this generation will mourn for and pine for the place and time prior to development.

Additionally I feel that our energy needs could better be addressed using the intelligence and resources currently available to develop new efficient and renewable forms of energy and that that is the path to meet our needs and the needs of the future.

Thanks for any time and for your review and response to comments.

Sincerely,

Anthony Perelli
