Dear BLM,

I am opposed to opening up ANWR to oil drilling.

Right now, the oil and gas industry has a massive surplus of oil and gas. ANWR is a sensitive place for wildlife. Drilling can and does harm to the surrounding environment. The refuge's coastal plain, where development would take place, is brimming with wildlife — critical calving grounds to caribou, habitat for polar bears and home to more than 200 species of migratory birds.

Inevitable spills would cause irrevocable damage to one of the most sensitive and pristine places on the planet.

We need to preserve these places for the next generation, not line the pockets of oil companies!

Sincerely,

Eric Radman
