Dear BLM,

I (and many others) strongly disagree with your plans to drill the the National Wildlife Refuge. It is a lovely place (I've been there).

I know that the oil and gas companies have lots of money, but to drill for oil in the arctic will disrupt caribou migration, harm polar bears, degrade fresh water supplies, and eliminate public access.

These are reasons enough to stop it!

Please consider my plea to refrain from drilling in the arctic.

Sincerely,

Margaret Sharp
