Dear Project Coordinator,

I do not support ANY drilling in the coastal plain of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. This action is not compatible for which the refuge was established. You are going against the mission of the US Fish and Wildlife service. This will only have short term gains that will forever impact the fish, wildlife and their habitats. This is NOT what the American people want or support. Please stop the negative politics and do the right thing. The American people have not had an adequate opportunity to weigh in on this political decision. Climate change has not been adequately addressed in the EIS nor given the consideration of the severity of the issue. Compatibility has not been adequately addressed and the long term impacts that continue today from previous drilling has been disregarded. Do not let one state or one Congress women dictate the fate of lands that belong to the future generations of the American people.

I will never have the opportunity to visit the Arctic NWR, but I support the mission of the USFWS and the need to have Federal land set aside to support clean air, water, animals and their habitats and the ecosystems benefits of this large lands that support these animals will benefit humans in the face of global warming. The USFWS Comprehensive Conservation Plan is being overlooked and the American people ignored on this decision. Please listen to normal American people and not the Lisa Murchoskey and SOI Zinkie politicians.

Sincerely,
Jan Taylor
