Dear Bureau of Land Management,

As a former resident of Alaska who understands the importance of the environment for the economic and physical wellbeing of Alaskans, I strongly oppose efforts to develop an oil and gas program in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR).

I've seen this discussion go on for years, including when I was an intern for Senator Ted Stevens in the late 80s. Our constituents opposed the idea then, and there is a good reason that the fight over this has gone on for decades - it is a poor idea and will have long-term, damaging consequences on Alaska and Alaskans.

Please stop efforts to develop oil and gas programs in ANWR.

Sincerely,

Kate Wardell
