To whom it may concern,

The mere fact that opening up such a fragile and already troubled ecosystem for oil and gas exploration astounds me. Why is a project like this even under consideration? The greed and stupidity of the human race never ceases to confound me.

There is a Cree proverb that sums up human mentality perfectly.....

“When all the animals have been hunted,
When all the trees have been cut down,
When all the water is polluted,
When all the air becomes unbreathable,
Only then will you realize you can’t eat money.”

In disgust,
