Dear Folks at BLM,

I live in a state very far away from Alaska (Maine), but I still feel the sense of awe and wonder I had when I was last there in 2012. Alaska is one of the absolute Treasures of this country. No where else can you experience such wildness. It is also critically important for the animals and plants that live there that the fragile ecosystem not be tampered with. There is no turning back after development and, God forbid, an oil spill.

I urge you NOT to permit drilling in the ANWR. It would be a travesty to humankind.

Sincerely,
Eugenia Wheelwright
