If you do, I hope you can convince your boss that drilling in the Arctic is just bad.
This is all about money though, and greed wins in this world.

I hope things change in the future though. Actually, they will have to. Maybe not in this generation, but in the coming ones.

But nobody cares about the next generation.

Why can't we move to clean energy ?
PROgress, instead of REgress ?

Why am i even wasting time writing this to no one but myself ?
