I would like to draw your attention to Executive Order 13175, published in November 2000. This executive order requires federal agencies and departments to consult with Indian tribal governments when considering policies that will “have substantial direct effects on one or more Indian tribes,” including “Alaska Natives.”

The Gwich'in Nation, under their own authority, has resolved: "That the United States President and Congress recognize the rights of the Gwich'in People to continue to live our way of life by prohibiting development in the calving and post-calving grounds of the Porcupine Caribou Herd." (Gwich'in Niintsyaa 2012.) Oil and gas leasing in the Coastal Plain will definitely impact the Gwich'in people.

As part of the EIS, please consider whether all sections of Executive Order 13175 were met in the production and promulgation of P.L. 115-97. If administrators cannot prove that these requirements have been met, the EIS must recommend that leasing, oil and drilling activities not be implemented.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jan Bronson
