Hello,

I strongly oppose drilling in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. I want the process of the EIS to be followed strictly and not rushed through. There must be a "No Drill" alternative in the EIS.

This area is an arctic desert and as such is ecologically sensitive. I do not see how the integrity of this area can be maintained with oil and gas drilling happening. Preserving the wilderness, the wildlife, the bird habitat, and the cultural bounty of this area is far more important than the boom and bust economy of Alaska.

I am tired of the environment taking a back seat to greed!

Sincerely,
Laura Wright
