

My advice is to build more efficient machinery that's not made to break down. This is called Planned obsolescence.

R.A. Beechey/son