drilling coastal plain

To Jan Fohrell <wfohrell@comcast.net>

I would like to add my voice to the many people who feel strongly that drilling in the Artic Refuge is the wrong path to take as we move to clean energy future. Not only does it undermine the Alaska Native communities, it is a horrible action against the animals and beauty of the area. History shows there is no such thing as drilling safely and not harming the environment. Do not allow the power brokers to override the studies already done by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Say no to drilling.
