I am writing today to urge you not to approve gas or oil drilling in the ANWR. The Arctic is such a fragile ecosystem, any oil spill will do catastrophic harm to the wildlife, the birds, the ecosystem, not to mention the endangered species that call the Arctic Ocean home as well. We could very well be seeing the last days of many of these species simply because of man's insatiable greed for oil. There is no way there won't be an oil spill, as oil has not been successfully drilled in the Arctic without a spill, ever. For what may be a small amount of oil, the harm and the risk far outweigh the profit. I urge you, for the sake of the wild animals, the polar bears, caribou, and all the migrating bird species that use this area, right in the area of proposed drilling no less, as a breeding ground...and have for centuries...this isn't somewhere they will be able to move from because it is ingrained into their DNA. Please, do not allow oil and gas drilling in ANWR.

Sincerely,

Ashli Carter
