Good Day,

I want to believe that these type of messages are read and considered but in real life I doubt it.

I have had the pleasure of travel, ocean sailing and wandering in the bushes and have seen the things we have done the earth. It is also apparent in global warming, the decimation of the oceans, and the extermination of our wildlife yet we continue to pillage our planet as it will never be a problem, much like living in a wooden house and tearing of it away for fuel. There will be a reckoning and it does not require being a brain surgeon to see it.

Quite frankly, some of the people in our government that dream up these projects couldn't find their butts with both hands, of course my opinion.

The Arctic National Wildlife Refuge is one of the greatest truly wild places left on Earth. It's sanctuary to some of the most diverse and magnificent wildlife in Alaska -- polar bears, wolves, musk oxen and vast herds of caribou -- and the oil and gas industry should not be allowed to trample its amazing landscapes and foul its pristine air and water.

The environmental impacts from all stages of oil and gas development, including seismic activities, leasing, exploration drilling and development must be fully considered. I urge the Department of the Interior to uphold all protections for the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge.

Sincerely,

LJ Corley
