I am adamantly opposed to any oil or gas exploration, drilling, or other fossil fuel development within the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. Given the reality of human-induced climate change due to burning fossil fuels, we need to leave oil and gas in the ground rather than extract it and cause more damage to our environment. Plus, the inevitable environmental damage from oil and gas extraction activities in a WILDLIFE REFUGE are unacceptable. Please note: WILDLIFE REFUGE, not commercial hub or industrial center. Please forgive my repetition, but some people seem not to understand that ANWR was set aside as a REFUGE for WILDLIFE. Wildlife does not want oil drilling or extraction – they want peace and quiet.
