To whom it may concern:

Please add my voice and that of my wife Heather (cc'd) to the chorus championing for NO DRILLING in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge.

We were fortunate enough to backpack through that area a few years ago and can tell you from firsthand experience that it is one of the most beautiful, fragile, and important areas of our planet. When Jimmy Carter protected that small corner of Alaska so many years ago, it was because he too realized that our entire planet depends on conserving these precious breeding grounds, species, ecosystem, and innate beauty. The area still bears the scars of the last mass-incursion by man over 50 years ago. It will not well survive the proposed development.

PLEASE PRESERVE!

Thank you.
