Dear Sir or Madam,

I'm writing to you to express my concern about any drilling for oil in the Arctic Ocean in Alaska.

The Gwich'in people live in the Alaskan coastal plain and part of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge known as the 1002 area. That area has been proposed drilling grounds. These people are living in ways that protect this very subtle and important part of our world for all of us who live on the earth.

The seismic testing will be happening on the calving grounds of the caribou that these protectors depend on for their food source, economically and spiritually. The Gwich'in will not be able to survive living in these lands once this process starts. If forced to move then they will have to get foods in other ways that will be more costly to them and to our government re food stamps + food distribution.

Then who will protect our earth
in this very important part of our world.

Please don't be short sided.
Once we decimate our earth
no one will be able to live here
healthily.

Please don't disrupt the environmental harmony and more than it has already been disrupted.

Please no drilling in the Alaskan Arctic Wildlife Preserve.
