Re: OIL DRILLING, LEASING Development in ARCTIC NATIONAL WILDLIFE Refuge (ANWR)

DEAR BLM IN ALASKA STATE OFFICE:

I Looked up "Refuge" in the dictionary
AND Here is THE Definition:

refuge - noun - a condition of Being safe or sheltered from pursuit, danger or trouble.

So A WILDLIFE refuge should be a place Where WILDLIFE Are safe or sheltered from pursuit, danger or trouble. BASICALLY the ANWR is relatively safe now for WILDLIFE.

IF OIL Drilling, Leasing, or Development is Allowed THE ANWR Will NO Longer Be A SAFE AND SHELTERED AREA FOR WILDLIFE.

THERE IS NO REASON ON EARTH THAT THE ANWR SHOULD BE SUBJECTED TO OIL DRILLING.

The plan to Drill is ill conceived AND VIOLATES ALL THE LAWS OF NATURE. Further,
THE DEIS is NOT complete - it Does NOT COVER MANY issues critical to the SAFETY OF WILDLIFE, such as CARIBOU AND THEIR CALVE.
THE entire plan to DRILL in the ANWR is ACTUALLY the Best WAY to DESTROY the Refuge, AND convert it into AN OIL-SOAKED WASTELAND.
