I am opposed to drilling or any other commercial exploitation of ANWR, I have been on many two week backpacks there. It is one of the few places on earth left where you can see wildlife in its natural state. The caribou migrations are incredible. I saw a grizzly mom spank her number two cub because he was coming my way. He got back in line pronto. Greedy people don't have that discipline. They will industrialize every place on the planet until the planet can no longer sustain us.
