Dear M N Hayes, BLM,

I am an Alaskan resident who has been in our wildlife areas for many years. I understand the need to keep drilling out of the coastal plains. Weighing the monetary benefits of leasing with the rights and needs of the Gwich'in people, protected since 1960, and the importance of this land for the Porcupine caribou herd, endangered polar bears, dwindling bird species and the musk oxen, that have already been extirpated once, there is no rational, nor moral, way to allow the leasing. We DO NOT NEED MORE OIL. We already have enough to put global warming into the catastrophic arena!

I consider it immoral, unjust, and inappropriate to rush the impact statement process into this 45 day period.

Please use your knowledge and wisdom and consideration for current and future generations to reconsider an extension on public comment. Consider what it truly means to faithfully manage our Arctic land.

Sincerely,
Barbara Rondine
