I am against any development of ANWR. Global warming is not going to solve itself. The only beneficiary of development in the Alaskan Wildlife National Refuge is the companies drilling it, while the entire world loses another pristine wilderness. Stop putting short-term economic interests of a few above the long term benefits of everyone. We're not short on oil or money; developing ANWR undervalues the biome entirely. Tourism, the life of its neighbors & residents, the value of a pristine environment, and everything else is hard to measure, but you can be sure it's far greater than whatever corporate nonsense developers are feeding you. You can't eat money or drink oil.

Extraction companies lie. I'm from the Ohio River Valley. I've swam in the runoff as a child, of extraction companies 'economic development'. There is no such thing as low impact extraction. Leave some places untouched!
